DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 11 is vague and indefinite as to what applicant intend to convey.

Clarification is requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 8-040882 A document in view of JP 8-188527 document.

The primary document discloses a sheet pack (i.e. a skin patch) for plastering skin, comprising a polysaccharide extracted from seaweed. The document discloses that the patch contain fruit extracts, for example, orange, apple, grapefruit, raspberry and lemon [0008] and [0013]. The document discloses that the sheet pack is useful for beautifying the skin or prevention or therapy of a wound or other diseases of the skin.

The primary document does not teach glycol.

However, the secondary document discloses a sheet pack agent comprising a glycol. The document discloses that the sheet pack agent is useful for a quasi-drug or a cosmetic used for beautifying of the skin.

With regards to the silent teaching of the specific density, pH and sugar content, the specific values are conventionally known in fruit extracts.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the teachings of JP 8-040882 in the manner taught by JP 8-188527. One having ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to modify the composition of JP '882 to include a glycol, because JP '527 discloses sheet pack agent comprising glycol.

The expected result would be a sheet pack agent containing a fruit extract and glycol.

The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
